Daisy Troop 1180 Tours New Municipal Complex

On Tuesday, April 19, Daisy Troop 1180 toured the new Municipal Complex located at 320 Boulevard. The tour of the first floor and basement was conducted by Michael J. Kronyak, Borough Administrator, and the third floor Hasbrouck Heights Free Public Library tour was conducted by Children's Librarian

Rosalie Nickles.

The tour began in front of the Borough Clerk's and Administrator's Offices where Mike welcomed the Daisies. He then led them to the Tax Collector's Offices where he showed them where the tax records are kept. Mr. Kronyak then pulled the record of one of the Daisies homes and explained what information the Borough collects on each piece of real estate located in the Borough. He then showed them the Tax Assessor's Office and then took the children into the Mayor's Office where he allowed them to sit in the Mayor's Chair.

Mr. Kronyak showed them the employee kitchen area, where they promptly looked to see what was in the refrigerator. He then led them to the Senior Center which was being used and to the Building and Health Department's Offices.

Mike concluded the tour of the first floor at the Mayor and Council Chambers. Here he explained how municipal government works. He let them go up and sit in the Mayor and Council chairs — then explained what the Mayor and Council does during their public meetings.

Mr. Kronyak then took the Daisies down into the basement where he showed them the youth center, community room and the building utilities.

James B. Scarr Post 106

Part One of a series about our American Legion.

Before the Post Began

James Bernard Scarr was born in Hollis, Kansas on February 17, 1893. After a number of moves, his family, including his younger brother Francis, settled on Columbus Avenue in Hasbrouck Heights in 1910.

James attended Rutgers

Lieutenant James B. Scarr

University after high school where he was active as a member of the Glee Club and held a number of class offices.

In addition to these activities, James was Captain of the Cadet Corps and participated in the Reserve Officers Training Corps since its inception in the summer of 1913.

After graduation from Rutgers, 'Jimmie' Scarr worked as a teacher and athletic director at Hasbrouck Heights High School during the 1916-17 year. He was also very active in the Scout movement and served as its second Scout Master.

America's declaration of war against Germany in April 1917 spurred James Scarr to take the examination for appointment to the rank of provisional Second Lieutenant in the Regular Army.

After passing the exam, James Scarr left his position at the High School and left for About 170 households participated in the first town-wide garage sale that was held on a bright and sunny Saturday, May 21, 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Adding to the community festivities The HH Free Public Library held its Annual Book and Bake Sale on the Municipal Complex Plaza and the Farmer's Market was on The Boulevard.

Several businesses participated -- including Chip Dee Music who played in front of Heights Flower Shoppe.

A free map indicating participants' addresses was distributed to the shoppers.

The $10 permit fee benefited D.A.R.E., the HH Free Public Library and the Municipal Anti-Drug Alliance.

Participation in this sale did not count towards the "two garage sales" per year ordinance. Space was made available for apartment dwellers and fundraising organizations at the High School.

The event was sponsored by the Mayor's Celebration Committee. ###

This was the first "Book and Bake Sale" that was conducted at the Municipal Complex Plaza.

The Farmer's Market was at The Boulevard and Washington Place and had a huge assortment of plants and early produce.

Several Boulevard businesses participated. Here is Chip Dee Music performing in front of Heights Flower Shoppe.

Officers Training Camp at Fort Meyer VA in May of 1917.

Second Lieutenant James Scarr was commissioned in August 1917 and assigned to the 30th US Infantry Third Division in early September.

Rapidly promoted to First Lieutenant, James Scarr proceeded to France in February 1918 in advance of the rest of the Third Division.

The Third Division continued its training in France until being moved to the front at Chateau-Thierry on May 31, 1918 to stem the German assault on the French line at the Marne.

Lieutenant James Scarr was at the Battalion Headquarters in Mt. St. Bonneil on the evening of June 6, 1918.

The Headquarters was under heavy bombardment, and Lieutenant James Scarr was administering First Aid to three wounded men who had just been brought in when a high-explosive shell exploded nearby. Lieutenant James Scarr was killed instantly, his broken watch marking the exact time of his death, 2:15 a.m.

He was posthumously promoted to Captain. ###

No application fee for Home Equity products. Available for 1 - 4 family owner occupied dwellings. Home Equity Line of Credit is an adjustable rate loan indexed to the Prime Rate, as published in the Wall Street Journal - NY edition, and may increase or decrease accordingly. *APR means Annual Percentage Rate. Rate reduction based on current rates and may not exceed maximum APR of 18%. Fixed rate loans have a fixed principal and interest payment every month of loan term. Not responsible for typographical errors.

Home Equity Loan vs. Home Equity Line of Credit

5 questions to ask yourself before you choose.

The choice between a home equity loan or a line of credit is seldom black or white. Here are a couple of generalizations:

A home equity loan might be the best fit if you plan to use the money in a lump sum for a one-time occasion such as consolidating your credit card debt, replacing the roof, or paying for your daughter's wedding. The interest rate is fixed, and so are the monthly payments, so you can budget accordingly.

A home equity line of credit — HELOC — might be a better fit if you will need money periodically and not all at once. This is the case in lengthy home remodeling projects when you pay the contractor in two or more draws. Or perhaps you will need to shed an arm and a leg at the beginning of each semester over the next four years when the kids head off to college. A HELOC gives you the flexibility to borrow what you need, when you need it.

To help you determine which loan best suits your needs, ask yourself:

Do I need the money in a lump sum, or in several installments?

If you need it in a lump sum, lean toward getting a home equity loan. If you need the money in installments, lean toward getting an equity line of credit.

Is it for a long-term purpose, or a short-term purpose?

If the money is to be spent on something that will last a long time, like a roof or a car, an equity loan might be better. If the money is to be spent on something that won't last long, like a semester in college or a wedding and reception, think about getting an equity line of credit.

Does a variable rate bother me?

A home equity line of credit has an adjustable rate that most likely changes every time the Federal Reserve raises or drops the federal funds rate. If you don't like the idea of having a rate that could rise every time the Fed meets, consider getting a home equity loan, which has a fixed rate.

How big of a monthly payment can I handle?

A home equity loan requires you to pay principal and interest every month for the life of the loan. A home equity line of credit allows you to pay just the interest for several years, if that's what you want to do. It's a whole other question whether it's a good idea to pay only the interest, and not the principal, for a long time.

Would a line of credit tempt me to use the money carelessly?

Naturally, if you answer this in the affirmative, you should consider getting a home equity loan, because you pay off the principal and interest over time and it's not a revolving credit account. ####

Child Restraint Law

The Hasbrouck Heights Police Department reminds residents of New Jersey's Child Restraint Law.

Children under 18 months of age must be in a federally approved car seat when riding anywhere in a car.

Children between 18 months and five years old must be in a car seat if they are riding in the front seat and must be secured by a safety belt if riding in the rear seat.

If the number of children under five years old exceeds the number of safety belts, children who are not restrained must ride in the rear seat.

The penalty for violations of this law ranges from a $10 to a $25 fine. ####

Buckle Up

The Hasbrouck Heights Police Department reminds residents of New Jersey's Safety Belt Law.

Safety belts improve your chances of surviving a crash by 60%. Most crashes occur within 25 miles of home and at speeds of under 40 miles per hour.

NJ Law requires that all front seat occupants of a passenger vehicle must wear a safety belt system.

The driver is responsible for any passenger under the age of 18. Front seat passengers 18 and over are responsible for themselves.

The penalty for an unbelted front seat occupant is $20.

The exemptions to this law include: those riding in a passenger auto manufactured before July 1, 1966 and those with physical or medical reasons verified in writing by a licensed physician. ####

Canceled Stamps Wanted by Kiwanis -- Supports Day Nursery & Infant Hospital

The Kiwanis Club of Hasbrouck Heights/Teterboro is collecting all canceled stamps both foreign and US. They are being sent to Sister Ann Mary, a retired Carmelite Sister.

The stamps are sold to collectors and the monies received from the sale support the St. Benedict's Day Nursery and Infant Hospital of Georgetown, St. Vincent of the West Indies.

St. Benedict's cares daily for 175 children from age 3 months to 4 1/2 years, at which age they enter a government infant school. The children are cared for daily from 7:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. At all times they are under the supervision of a staff member supervised by a Carmelite Sister.

The children are given breakfast, lunch and two snacks daily; for most of the children these will be their only meals. The majority of the children come from single parent families with no father and a mother who must work every day just to make ends meet. The average yearly income in St. Vincent is $1,000.00.

The Infant Hospital is a 12-bed ward for malnourished, battered, or abandoned children. There is no orphanage on the islands so the hospital and day nursery must act as one. Often there are more than 20 children being served at a time.

After 39 years of service, the Infant Hospital is in urgent need of expansion. A new wing is needed to house the children who have remained from infancy and have now grown into teenagers. The facility was founded to take care of malnourished children; however, it has responded to the needs of the times by taking in children who have been abandoned, neglected, or abused.

Methodist Nursery School students display "The Three Pigs" straw, brick and stick houses that they constructed. Photo and story provided by Methodist Nursery School.

Methodist Nursery School News

The Methodist Nursery School has been busy this year expanding their curriculum.

The students in the five-morning program recently read "The Three Pigs," then constructed the straw, brick and stick houses. They then performed the play for the rest of the students in the school. Bravo!

The class has been involved in other activities including making a paper mache beehive, celebrating Cinco de Mayo by learning the Mexican Hat Dance, learning some Spanish words and sharing nachos.

They also learned how to make ice cream and celebrated by making ice cream sundaes. Yum!

For Mother's Day, they performed a song called, "We Love Our Moms."

Our three morning Pre-K classes have been very active learning about caterpillars, butterflies, and other insects.

For the first time this year each child made their own square for a quilt which we have proudly displayed in our first floor hall.

The two morning Nursery classes enjoyed learning how to grow plants, make lion faces and lambs, and learned the poem about the "Turtle in a Box."

As an example of our hands-on learning philosophy, we celebrated "Blue Day" with children wearing blue, making blue books, decorating the school with blue streamers, making blue jello and then blueberry parfaits.

We encourage a love of books, we read "Caps For Sale" and after the story the children decorated their own caps. Another favorite book, "The Very Lonely Firefly" was read and later the children made their own fireflies.

Mrs. Jackie Mazza, with the school for 19 years, is the Director and Nursery Teacher. Mrs. Kathy DiGiacinto teaches the five-morning Pre-K, Mrs. Maryjo Sciacvico teaches Pre-K and Nursery, and Mrs. Andrea Marino teaches Pre-K.

Hours are from 8:45 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. For the Pre-K, children must be 4 by October 1 and for the Nursery program children must be 3 by October 1.

Pre-K days are Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Nursery days are Tuesday and Thursday.

Tuition is $125 a month for Nursery, $175 for Pre-K and $275 for five morning Pre-K.

Please call the school at 201-288-4636 or drop by for a visit at Burton and Division Avenue in Hasbrouck Heights. ####

HH Free Public Library Sponsors Talk It Up! 2005 Summer Book Discussion Program for Teens

Area teens are invited to join Talk It Up!, a free, six-week summer book discussion program for teens, sponsored by Hasbrouck Heights Free Public Library.

Last summer nearly 400 teens participated in Talk It Up! at local Bergen County Cooperative Library System libraries.

Talk It Up! is open to all 7th - 9th grade teens who have a library card from a BCCLS member library.

At each weekly meeting, participants share their reactions to one of six selections.

The book discussion will be followed by a group game, and refreshments.

Talk It Up! is a program that allows teens to come together, share award-winning books, and learn about each other.

Participants who attend at least four meetings will be invited to a wrap-up party with teens from 29 towns.

Some area schools have agreed to accept participation in Talk It Up! as credit towards their summer reading requirements.

Other libraries participating in the Talk It Up! program include: Bogota, Carlstadt, Dumont, East Rutherford, Englewood, Fair Lawn, Fort Lee, Glen Rock, Hackensack, Hawthorne, Leonia, Lyndhurst, Mahwah, New Milford, North Arlington, Oradell, Palisades Park, Paramus, Ramsey, Ridgefield Park, Ridgewood, River Edge, Rutherford, Teaneck, Weehawken, West Caldwell, Westwood, and Wyckoff.

The program runs for six weeks during July and August. Call 201-288-0488 for details. ####

What's up with megapixels?

by Bob Major • Bob Major Photography • www.bobmajor.com

Knowing which megapixel camera to buy can be intimidating. There are literally hundreds of models of digital cameras out on the market today. How can you know how many megapixels you'll need?

For the most part, I would suggest that you get the highest megapixel rated digital camera you can afford.

Having said that though, there are some things you need to keep in mind before you make your next digital camera purchase.

What are megapixels anyway?

Simply put, megapixels refers to how many millions of pixels (picture elements = "dots") make up the images a particular camera takes.

The more pixels in the image, the more detail the camera can capture. More detail means better quality and better photos.

The higher the megapixels, the larger the photograph that can be produced and still be photo quality.

How many megapixels do you need?

Over the last few years, the cost of digital cameras has gone down considerably.

In the past, you had to pay big bucks for anything above 2 megapixels.

Today, I wouldn't recommend you buy anything under 4 megapixels if you have any intentions of getting professional prints done from the pictures you take: 4 megapixel cameras allow you to achieve excellent photo quality for any picture size up to 8x10.

For most people, this is the largest picture size they would ever get printed. Larger prints can certainly be made from a 4 megapixel camera, and are acceptable.

Is there any downside to lots of megapixels?

Only a small one. High megapixel cameras use up lots of memory. When each picture you take uses lots of memory, it means you fit less pictures on your camera for the same amount of memory.

If you have a 3 megapixel camera, you should be able to fit up to 40 pictures on 32mb of RAM.

If you have a 6 megapixel camera, for that same 32mb, you'll only be able to fit 20 pictures.

The cost of memory has also gone down drastically.

Memory card space is not the consideration it would have been in the past.

One aspect to consider is the type of memory your camera will accept. Most professionals use cameras that will accept "compact flash cards." Larger capacity compact flash cards are becoming available at an excellent price.

In the end, the more megapixels your camera can capture per image, the more options you have.

Most of all ... have fun with it! Bob Major - Bob Major Photography ####

Soldier Visits Corpus Christi Learning Center While on Leave from Iraq

Stephanie Krisinski, who attends Corpus Christi Early Learning Center, asked her teacher Helen Torebka and her classmates to pray for her cousin when he injured his knee.

The teacher helped the students to organize a care package of DVD's, snacks and letters from the class.

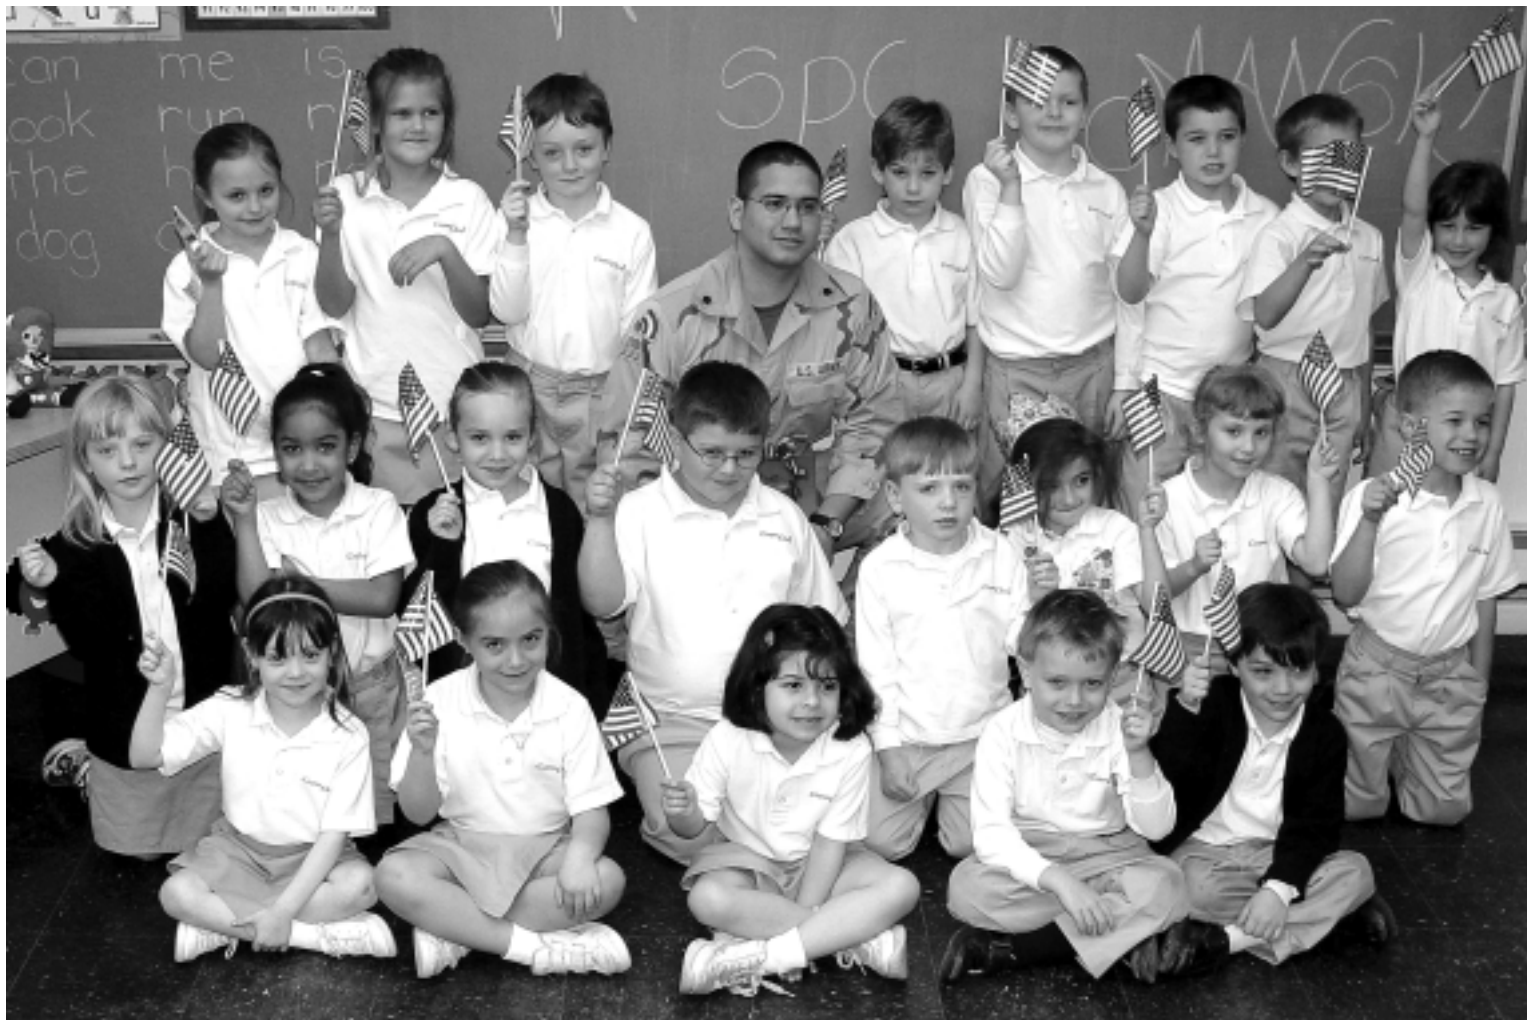

SPC Peter J. Romanski, 23, whose hometown is Matawan, NJ, is serving in the NJ National Guard, 42nd Infantry Division. His unit was sent to Tikrit, Iraq in January 2005.

SPC Romanski, is a radio operator who works on logistics/supply at the Division level.

SPC Romanski received the "care package" and shared the goodies with his "buddies."

He sent the children a letter thanking them for their thoughtfulness.

In his letter he said, "I really appreciate your support. All of my buddies and I will really enjoy the snacks and movies. I hope you don't mind me sharing."

He continued, "thanks for asking about my knee. It's getting much better and I can even exercise again."

For months the children prayed for their soldier. They created an illustrated book that explained why they are "Proud to be an American."

While on leave back in the States, he visited the children on May 6, 2005 and brought them some Dunkin' Donuts Munchkins.

SPC Romanski was presented with their crafted book, gave him "hip-hip-hooray" cheers, waved miniature American flags and recited a poem.

SPC Romanski thanked them for their prayers. He explained a bit of Army life in Iraq. He assured them that he would keep a picture of their class posted near his bunk.

Before leaving, he visited other classes at the Learning Center. He was due to return to Iraq on May 16.

Rene Hund is the Director of the Early Childhood Learning Center. The Center was established in 2001 and includes Pre K-3, Pre K-4 and Kindergarten classes. ###

HHFD Trains in Live Fire and Heavy Smoke Conditions

On a rainy Saturday morning, April 30, 2005, at 7:00 a.m., members of the Hasbrouck Heights Fire Department went "out of service" to conduct "live fire training" at the Middletown Township Volunteer Fire Department Training Academy.

The community's coverage was augmented by the Wood-Ridge Fire Department, until the HHFD returned at 3:00 p.m.

About a third of the department participated and traveled to the Academy with Engine #2, Rescue, EMS #2 and the Second Assistant Chief's SUV.

Once on location, the department connected to a hydrant, set up hoses, put on turnout gear and prepared the necessary equipment.

Middletown Academy trainers provided a "walk through" orientation of the smokehouse. The Academy burns Class "A" materials in the smokehouse to provide as close to realistic environment as possible to train firefighters for real-life, high temperature fires in smoke-filled environments.

The concrete block smokehouse facilitates multiple companies working together under both light and heavy smoke and fire conditions — and has two sections with a bi-level single family dwelling mockup on one side, and a split ranch single family dwelling on the other side — both full basement, plus a garage with automobile.

Training focused on establishing command, setting up multiple teams, putting out fires, search & rescue, etc. During the day-long drill, trainers set several fires in rapid succession. As soon as one fire was extinguished, another was set. Occasionally, several fires were going at the same time.

Senior firefighters got practice performing the "command" position. All firefighters rotated on one of two teams — for search and rescue and to extinguish the blaze.

Senior department members critiqued each session and offered operational tips for better safety and performance. Middletown trainers would take Heights firefighters back into the structure to review specifics.

Trainers closely monitored each firefighter during each exercise, to insure personal safety, that correct procedures were executed, and that training objectives were being met.

Probationary and junior department members in red helmets were not permitted in the burning building, but got lots of support experience by replacing firefighters' Scott Air Packs on the fly, dragging hoses, getting tools, etc. Junior members were allowed to tour inside the structure after all fires were extinguished.

The training was so active, that the HHFD consumed its inventory of the compressed air used in the Scott Air Packs. The Academy re-charged the air tanks so that the training could continue.

The Middletown Fire Academy is certified by the NJ Division of Fire Safety, and provides comprehensive firematic training for firefighters in New Jersey.

Middletown Township Fire Department is the world's largest volunteer fire department with 11 companies and about 600 volunteers. ###

W. Britain Miniatures Were On Display in the Library

Collectible toy soldiers are an expensive hobby, yet they are a sight for the eye to see.

The May display at the Hasbrouck Heights Free Public Library was a feast for the eyes.

These miniature collectible figures capture historical events, famous faces and legends, relating the history of Great Britain.

This collection of Britains was assembled over many years by local resident Martin Saccomano.

His fascination for these figures became a lifetime hobby for him. He has collected hundreds of figures and proudly displayed them at the Library.

Toy soldiers were first mass produced in Germany in the early 1700's.

These were flat and made of pewter. The first mass-produced three-dimensional lead soldiers were made in France in the late 1700's.

In the late 1800's manufacturers began producing less expensive, hollow lead soldiers.

Lead soldiers remained popular until the fear of lead poisoning became a concern in the early twentieth century.

Eventually lead was replaced by plastic which is cheaper and safer.

However, collectible miniature soldiers today are made of lead or other alloys.

William Britain Jr. (1860-1933) created his lead-free pewter miniature soldiers in 1893. Pewter consists of any of numerous silver-gray alloys of tin with various amounts of antimony, copper and sometimes lead.

His Britains are recognized as the most finely detailed and historically accurate metal soldiers. Today he is acclaimed as the world leader in metal soldiers. Story and photos by Peter Gallo, Jr. ###

The Beautiful Garden of Love

by Reverend Carole Siraci
Community United Church of Christ

Have you planted your garden yet? What seeds did you plant? Did you plant flowers or vegetables?

Whatever you planted you can be sure it will come up. There is a material and a spiritual law that what you sow you will reap.

Our minds are like our gardens. In our gardens we prepare the soil, we make room for the seeds in the soil, we cover the seeds with earth, and we water the earth so the seeds will begin to grow and sprout.

Our prayer life is like planting seeds. We need to make sure our seeds are being planted in spiritual soil, within the conscious awareness of the Presence of God.

We prepare the soil of our minds by deep breathing; breathing in the breath of God.

We quiet our thoughts and make a space within our mind, letting our minds be filled with the Holy Spirit.

We will know the soil is fertile when we are filled with a sense of peace.

We plant our prayer thoughts by releasing them into the Spirit where they will manifest as a harmonious unfolding of good.

Trust is an important part in planting our earthly garden as well as our spiritual garden.

We trust that the seeds of our garden will grow the fruitage of what we planted in the right and perfect time.

We don't dig up the seeds to see if they are growing. That would disturb and hinder the growth.

So we too plant our seed thoughts in spiritual consciousness letting them be nourished by the Holy Spirit and, we let them be, trusting that God will bring forth the desired outcome.

The Bible says, "God will perfect that which concerns us." We don't take the thought back into our human mind and start mulling over what we should do or what will happen if. No, we trust that the creative loving mind of God will bring forth our highest good.

We need to be careful that our idle thoughts aren't producing weeds in the garden of our minds, so we must look at our mind, become aware of our seed thoughts and pull up those thoughts that appear to be weeds.

Lord God, we know that the thoughts you think toward us are good and good only, so we pray that you will help us to be aware of what we are allowing to manifest in our minds.

We pray that your thoughts will fill our mind bringing forth a beautiful garden of love, joy, enthusiasm, peace and creative fulfilling ideas. Thank you, Father. Amen.

A Visit to Tuscany Touch And A Taste of Italy

by Justin Watrel

When Italian immigrants came to this country, they not only brought their hopes and dreams, but their cuisine as well. Many ingredients from the 'old country' were simply not available at the time, so they made do with products they found here.

With a large immigration from the Southern part of Italy, people brought the foods they knew and adapted them to their new surroundings. Over time, this became the basis for what we know as "Italian-American" cuisine.

A little piece of Italy arrived in Hasbrouck Heights when the Tuscany Touch opened on the Boulevard. The location has had many incarnations before known as Dolly's, Gramps, Kristine's Comer and most recently, Terra Nostra.

New owners, Michael and Regina D'Angelo opened the restaurant, celebrating its one year anniversary, on March 10, 2005. The D'Angelo's were living in Wood-Ridge at the time when they discovered the business for sale.

With the opening of their new restaurant, the D'Angelo's also became our neighbors, moving to Hasbrouck Heights to be closer to the business. "We wanted to make a real investment in the town," Michael said.

The D'Angelo's have a colorful story in their start in the United States. Michael had immigrated to this country from Palermo, Sicily in 1982. He left in 1995 to go back to Italy to spend time with his family there.

While working as a chef at the, a 700 year villa in Florence, he met his wife, Regina Branchetti, a college student studying physiology. After they were married, Michael went to work at the house of the noble family, the Antinori's, who are famous all over the world for their wines.

He was introduced to them by his mother-in-law, who at the time was a chef for the family. As a private chef, he cooked special dishes for the guests of the Antinori's, who were there for wine tasting. It was a menu of dishes to pair with the wines they were producing in the family vineyards.

Michael came back to this country in 2000 with his wife and their daughter.

Regina added, "We wanted more opportunities also for our daughter. In this country, there is more room for advancement and higher education." Their daughter, Valentina, now attends Hasbrouck Heights High School.

Michael said he wanted to develop a menu that would please customers. His traditional Italian menu contains such items as stuffed shells, eggplant and chicken parmigiana, spaghetti and meatballs and baked penne. His regular menu includes traditional items -- hamburgers, chicken wings, hot and cold sandwiches and salad platters.

His pizza menu is by the slice as well as personal, Sicilian and stuffed pizza. There are all sorts of calzones and bread rolls.

The chalkboard specials make Tuscany Touch unique. "We change our chalkboard specials everyday. We make all our own sauce and pastas from scratch and all of our specials are based on dishes I used to cook in Italy," Michael said. "True Italian food is very creative."

In Italy, a person knows all the detailed ingredients behind the dish. All dishes are a product of their region based on the fresh ingredients available." Michael finds that the customers can taste the difference. "If you let them taste authentic food, they will know how it differs from restaurants here."

At our restaurant, we use fresh rosemary and sage as well as homemade pasta and fresh vegetables. We want our customers to taste the quality difference in our food. We try to be innovative with our cooking."

Some of the daily specials on the chalkboard are for appetizers, Fresh Tomato & Mozzarella and Breaded Mushrooms. For entrees, the restaurant features Chicken Sorrentino, Chicken Calabrese and Gnocchi Caprese.

Pasta dishes, Tortellini Bolognese, Paglia e Tiera Pomadora and Lasagna Toscano.

For dessert, Regina makes homemade Tiramisu and Almond Cake as well as Cannoli with fresh cream. "The difference in the way we prepare our meals and the way others cook is that we follow the traditional recipes of Italy."

When we make Penne la Vodka, we use real vodka and bacon instead of a tomato cream sauce that others might use."

The restaurant is strictly BYOB but they do carry an array of sodas and teas. They will also do catering for large parties.

In the summer, Michael grows his own basil, oregano, parsley, eggplant, zucchini and tomatoes to use in the restaurant. "The fresh ingredients really make a difference in the flavor of the food. Even when I use garlic, I use it from the bulb and cut it to order. I don't like the peeled garlic in the plastic containers."

Since they moved to Hasbrouck Heights, the D'Angelo family has established a warm, friendly atmosphere. "Customers like a family restaurant where the husband and wife cook side by side. We think of our food as inventive and creative," Michael says. Regina included, "We have a lot of trust from our customers."

Mike and Regina thank all their loyal customers from Hasbrouck Heights and Wood-Ridge who continue to eat here and would like to extend a welcome to new patrons to come in and try their restaurant. ###

This year's six week camp will be held in Woodland Park June 27 through August 5, Monday through Friday (weather permitting), except Monday, July 4.

This is a full time summer day camp which means children stay through lunch with their counselors.

Parents do not have to pick up their children until 3:30 p.m.

Children are expected to bring their own lunch and drink, but are allowed to go home for lunch with their parent's permission.

Each day there will be playground activities such as kick ball, coloring, table games, wiffle ball, stick ball, jump ropes, arts & crafts, as well as story telling, children's and teen activities, contests, etc., craft sessions and special theme days.

Numerous field trips are scheduled to include: Bowcraft Amusement Park, Wild West

City, Icehouse, Rex Plex, Six Flags Great Adventure and Medieval Times.

Trips are geared for all ages and will be supervised by camp counselors.

Special theme days include Anti Drug Day, I Love America Day, Halloween in July Day, Carnival Day, Camp Talent Show and Olympic Day.

The Recreation Department stated there will be enough supervision to handle the children and that children's safety is a main priority.

Camp Rec Trek is open to all Hasbrouck Heights boys and girls ages 6 through 14 who are permanent residents of Hasbrouck Heights.

Proof of residency and birth certificates must be shown upon demand.

The cost is $75 per child plus optional trips. The non-refundable fee includes all playground activities, most theme days and a "Rec Trek" camp shirt.

Call Rob Brady at the Recreation Department at 201-288-4143 for more information. ###
